Estranged husband kills wife, shoots man

<http://concord.wbtv.com/news/news/70213-estranged-husband-kills-wife-shoots-man-concord-home-police-say>

CONCORD, NC (WBTV) - Concord Police are investigating a New Year's Day shooting at a home off Broad Drive that left two people dead, another man injured.

According to Concord Police Chief Guy Smith, an officer was patrolling Broad Drive SW around 7:15 p.m. Sunday night when they found a man suffering from a gunshot wound.

Officers say Fredy Guzman, 33, was shot in the stomach. He then pointed to a home along the 300 block of Broad Drive SW and told officers that a shooting had just happened.

When the officer got to the home, 54-year-old Eladio Hernandez-Pelaez and 30-year-old Isidra Ramos Sarabio were found dead in the backyard.

Police believe the two were married but estranged. The wife lived at the home on Broad Drive with family and friends, including Guzman.

Investigators believe Hernandez-Pelaez arrived at the home, uninvited, and confronted the people living in the home. Witnesses say he then shot Guzman, his wife and himself.

Neighbors told WBTV two families live here and they have several small children.

Police say there were children inside the home at the time but weren't hurt. They are interviewing the older ones.

Neighbors say the people who live here keep to themselves and work hard.

Guzman was taken to the hospital and is expected to survive.

Teen mother charged with concealing baby's death

<http://www.blueridgenow.com/article/20120104/NEWS/120109941?tc=obinsite>

HENDERSONVILLE- The 17-year-old girl who left her dead newborn in the trash in a grocery store restroom was arrested Tuesday and charged with concealing the birth of a child and failure to report a death.

Aketzalia Sanchez-Anaya of 116 Joanne Lane, Hendersonville, told police in September that she gave birth to the baby at her Henderson County home and “discarded remnants of the birth” in the yard, according to search warrants filed at the Henderson County Clerk of Court's Office.

Arrest warrants detail that Sanchez-Anaya is charged with disposing of “the deceased body of a female child” in an “endeavor to conceal the birth of such child.”

For the charge of concealing or failing to report a death, the warrants state that she is charged with “secretly disposing of a dead human body in an endeavor to conceal the death of such person.”

Sanchez-Anaya is being held in the Henderson County jail under a $50,000 secured bond. She had her first appearance in District Court this morning and waived her right to a court-appointed attorney. She has hired Asheville attorney Sean Devereux.

Employees at the Bi-Lo on Four Seasons Boulevard discovered the baby's body around 9:30 p.m. Aug. 28 and called police.

Police identified the teen mother after they released surveillance video showing her entering the store around 4:30 p.m. Sunday carrying a heavy handbag. On the video, she is seen entering the women's restroom and emerging a short time later in a change of clothing. She and a male companion made a cash purchase and then left the store.

The police narrative that accompanies the search warrant states that investigators received numerous telephone calls from concerned citizens who identified the girl from the video broadcast by the news media.

After the teen was identified, investigators from the Hendersonville Police Department and Henderson County Sheriff's Office questioned her at the sheriff's office, the documents state.

Police have said that the teen told investigators the female infant was dead when she left the child in the restroom.

Cigarette Smuggler Sentenced

<http://www.justice.gov/usao/nce/press/2011-dec-14.html>

RALEIGH - United States Attorney Thomas G. Walker announced that in federal court late yesterday Chief United States District Judge James C. Dever III, sentenced RAMON EDILIO GOMEZ, 42, to 30 months imprisonment followed by three years supervised release. The Court will make a decision regarding restitution in the coming weeks.

A Federal Grand Jury returned a Criminal Indictment on January 19, 2011. On July 27, 2011, in a bench trial, GOMEZ was found guilty of conspiring to ship, transport, receive and possess contraband cigarettes and transport stolen property in interstate commerce and aiding and abetting the interstate transportation of stolen property.

According to the investigation, between 2003 and 2010, GOMEZ and others devised a scheme to defraud northeastern states of tax revenue while profiting personally from the sale of the contraband cigarettes. An excise tax is charged on cigarettes. In New Jersey, New York and other states, a cigarette tax stamp in the form of an adhesive stamp, metered stamp, or heat transfer stamp is placed on cigarette packs as evidence of payment of the tax in a particular state. North Carolina is one of three states that do not apply tax stamps to cigarettes sold within the state. Consequently, unstamped cigarettes can easily be resold in other states for a substantial profit.

Between 2003 and 2010, GOMEZ, and others, would purchase cigarettes in North Carolina and drive to Pennsylvania, New Jersey or New York to sell the unstamped cigarettes at a profit. In August and September of last year, two controlled purchases of cigarettes were arranged, in which GOMEZ was lead to believe that part of the cigarettes were stolen. It is estimated GOMEZ avoided paying approximately $825,930 in taxes.

2 Sentenced to Life for 2 robberies

<http://www.justice.gov/usao/nce/press/2011-dec-01.html>

RALEIGH - United States Attorney Thomas G. Walker announced that in federal court today RHAIM MOISES SANTIAGO, 18, and ISHMAEL AVIVE SANTIAGO, 20, both of Clayton, North Carolina, each pled guilty before United States District Judge Terrence W. Boyle for their roles in two robberies committed in Clayton, North Carolina, on July 28, 2011, and July 29, 2011. Both RHAIM SANTIAGO and ISHMAEL SANTIAGO face a statutory maximum of life imprisonment.

A Federal Grand Jury returned a Criminal Indictment on September 28, 2011. Each defendant pled guilty to Hobbs Act robbery, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1951, and using and carrying a firearm during and in relation to a crime of violence, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 924(c). Additionally, RHAIM SANTIAGO pled guilty to carjacking, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 2119.

The investigation revealed that on July 28, 2011, both RHAIM SANTIAGO and ISHMAEL SANTIAGO obtained a firearm with an unindicted, juvenile co-conspirator. Both RHAIM SANTIAGO and ISHMAEL SANTIAGO carried the firearm to the Walgreens located at 11306 US Highway 70 West in Clayton, North Carolina. Upon their arrival, both RHAIM SANTIAGO and ISHMAEL SANTIAGO entered the Walgreens with the firearm, approached the clerk, and demanded the money in the cash register. As the robbery was taking place, RHAIM SANTIAGO assaulted the clerk by hitting the clerk in the head with the firearm. After obtaining cash from the register, they fled the area on foot.

The investigation further revealed that on July 29, 2011, the day after the Walgreens robbery, RHAIM SANTIAGO approached a resident of Clayton. SANTIAGO then pointed a gun at the victim's chest and demanded the keys to the victim's vehicle, which was parked nearby. The victim complied with SANTIAGO's demands and fled the area in the victim's vehicle. The victim's small child was with the victim as the robbery occurred. After a short police chase, SANTIAGO wrecked the vehicle. He was arrested shortly thereafter.

(illegal) Immigrant arrested for crack cocaine possession

<http://www.kinston.com/articles/cocaine-79022-herandez-crack.html>

KINSTON- A Mexican-born (illegal) immigrant remains locked up in the Lenoir County Jail on the suspicion he bought two rocks of crack cocaine from a Kinston dealer living in a popular drug house.

Francisco Vasquez Hernandez, 43, was escorted to a jail cell Wednesday after being arraigned in Lenoir County District Court for a felony charge of possession of crack cocaine.

As of press time Wednesday, a guard told The Free Press Hernandez was still in custody under a $5,000 secured bond.

Hernandez was booked and processed around 11 p.m., Monday — an hour after an officer with the Kinston Department of Public Safety pulled him over near the 400 block of West King Street for not having an operable light illuminating his license plate, Spencer said.

When the patrolman approached Hernandez's 1993 Honda Accord, he smelled the odor of an alcoholic beverage and saw a baggie containing two crack rocks when Hernandez opened the driver side door, Spencer said.

The discovery did not come as too much of a surprise, Spencer said, as the officer had followed Hernandez from a residence on the 300 block of East Caswell Street known from experience by local investigators as a drug house.

Shortly before 10 p.m., Spencer said the officer observed a vehicle pull up to the house and a person come up to car, lean in and walk away when Hernandez drove away.

While Hernandez's address is listed as 228 Willy Parkway in Kinston, reports list the Vera Cruz native as a non-resident.

SILER CITY, NC - Authorities arrested a Chatham County man last week wanted for kidnapping his 2-year-old son in 2006, but the boy remains missing five years after he was taken from his Siler City home at gunpoint.

Jorge Aguilera, 34, of 1305 Sunset Place in Siler City, was charged Monday, November 21 with first-degree kidnapping in connection with the disappearance of Edwin Gonzalez on Oct. 1, 2006.

Maj. Gary Blankenship, with the Chatham County Sheriff's Office, said Aguilera and three other armed men broke into a home at 147 Crystal Lane and used duct-tape to tie up Edwin's mother, Florentina Coria, her brother and her father. Edwin and $100 in cash were taken from the home.

Authorities issued an Amber Alert for Edwin, but Aguilera managed to flee to Mexico with his son, Blankenship said. The FBI worked with Mexican authorities to capture Aguilera and bring him to the United States.

Edwin, who is now 7, hasn't been found, and investigators believe he is with some of Aguilera's relatives in Mexico, Blakenship said.

Aguilera was also charged with first-degree burglary and failure to appear in court. He was in the Chatham County jail under a $1 million secured bond and is scheduled to appear in court Monday.

At the time of the kidnapping, Aguilera was awaiting trial on domestic violence charges and had been banned from Coria's house.

Man pleads to running Charlotte-based brothel

<http://www.charlotteobserver.com/2012/01/11/2917643/man-pleads-guilty-to-running-nc.html>

CHARLOTTE- A 40-year-old Mexican national accused of operating a brothel in Charlotte pleaded guilty Wednesday to sex-trafficking charges.

Filemon Guzman-Martinez pleaded guilty to transporting individuals in interstate commerce for prostitution, enticing individuals to travel in interstate commerce for prostitution and unlawful transportation of an alien.

Guzman-Martinez is accused of operating a residential brothel on Southampton Road in Charlotte.

His guilty pleas were entered on Human Trafficking Awareness Day.

"Sex trafficking is a horrible crime that treats sex as a commodity and exploits vulnerable persons for financial benefit," U.S. Attorney Anne Tompkins said. "This case provides a window into the underground world of sex trafficking and shows that it happens in communities like ours."

Charity Magnuson, founder and executive director of NC Stop Human Trafficking, said Wednesday that 200,000 American children are at risk each year of being forced into the sex trade.

"It's a hidden crime," Magnuson said. "We're seeing more and more cases of sex trafficking in North Carolina. We need the community to be on the lookout for these sex traffickers so we can get these people off the streets."

Federal prosecutors say Guzman-Martinez handed out to prospective prostitution customers business cards that had his mobile phone number, pictures of women posed and dressed in a sexually suggestive manner, and the question, "What do you have to lose?"

Customers then called the defendant to request a prostitute, authorities said.

Prosecutors, citing information in court documents and court proceedings, said the sexual encounters cost $25 each. Guzman-Martinez received $10 for every customer, and the prostitute received $15.

One of the prostitutes who worked for Guzman-Martinez told law enforcement officers that she had eight to 10 customers each day, according to prosecutors.

"The defendant stated that the prostitutes, who came from various states in the United States, agreed to stay with him about one week at a time, and he transported them to and from other locations to work as prostitutes," prosecutors said.

Guzman-Martinez faces a maximum sentence of 30 years in prison.

In announcing Guzman-Martinez's guilty pleas, federal prosecutors said human trafficking "dehumanizes and traumatizes victims while often shocking communities upon its discovery.

"Victims include U.S. citizens, lawful permanent residents, and foreign-born men, women, and children who are trafficked for sex and/or labor purposes in both large cities and small towns."

Based on collected information, Surry County Sheriff Graham Atkinson said the suspects are three Hispanic males, ranging in age from late 20s to early 40s.

Surveillance footage captured two of the suspects entering a convenience store prior to the homicide. One suspect was wearing a red cap, a striped burgundy tee shirt, blue jeans and boots. He is described as 5'7" to 5'9" with facial hair.

The other suspect was wearing a light brown, long sleeve outer garment as well as blue jeans. He has short hair, with no facial hair, and is described as about 5'6" to 5'8" in height.

A third suspect was not captured by the surveillance footage. He is described as about 5'4" to 5'6".

They are last known to be operating a 2002 or 2003 black Chevrolet Suburban with 20-inch chrome wheels, tinted windows, black running boards and a chrome brush guard with fog lights attached to the front. Atkinson said his office does not have the vehicle's registration information.

The three are being sought in connection with the shooting death of Gabriel Paul Valdez Sr.

On Wednesday, Surry County Central Communications received a report, at 9:27 p.m., of a shooting near the Rockford Bridge that spans the Yadkin River on Rockford Road. When officers arrived at the scene, they found Valdez, 50, dead of multiple gunshot wounds.

According to Atkinson, authorities believe the victim and suspects knew each other, as Valdez had allegedly been transported to the scene by the suspects from a location in Yadkin County.

HAMPTONVILLE- A three-month undercover investigation resulted in the arrest on Wednesday of a Hamptonville resident described as a significant source of illegal drugs in Wilkes County.

Jesus Rafael “Ralph” Rodriguez, 44, is believed to have connections with a Mexican drug cartel and “supplied a large amount of our methamphetamine, cocaine and marijuana,” said Lt. Craig Dancy, head of the Wilkes Sheriff’s Department’s narcotics unit.

“He was getting it from suppliers in Atlanta, New York and Raleigh” after it came straight there from Mexico, said Dancy, adding that Rodriguez was then selling it to dealers in Wilkes.

“The investigation is continuing as far as the people he supplied in Wilkes County and charges are likely,” he said.

When an undercover officer posing as a buyer commented on the unusual color of the methamphetamine, he said, Rodriguez told him this resulted from being exposed to heat when it was transported in engine compartments.

Dancy said Wilkes and Yadkin sheriff’s department investigators seized 30 pounds of marijuana and 10 ounces of cocaine at Rodriguez’s residence in the Yadkin County portion of Hamptonville after going there with a search warrant on Dec. 1. His home is on Bob’s Lake Road, just east of the Wilkes line.

He said Rodriguez is charged with selling illegal drugs to undercover officers on multiple occasions, including:

- 2 ounces of cocaine in an Oct. 20 in a convenience store parking lot just north of the Clingman Road interchange on U.S. 421 East;

- 50 grams of cocaine on Oct. 27 in the Northwest Visitor’s Center parking lot along U.S. 421 east of the Wilkesboros;

- 2 ounces of crystal methamphetamine later on Oct. 27 in the convenience store parking lot near the Clingman Road interchange on U.S. 421 East;

•5 ounces of cocaine on Nov. 14 in the convenience store parking lot near the Clingman Road interchange on U.S. 421 East.

Dancy said the undercover investigation netted 533 grams of cocaine with a street value of about $26,600 and 56 grams of methamphetamine worth about $2,000.

Rodriguez was arrested at the Yadkinville Police Department. The Yadkin Sheriff's Department charged him with drug offenses in connection with the marijuana and cocaine found during the search of his home.

He remained in the Yadkin County Jail under a $75,000 secured bond at press time this morning.

The Wilkes Sheriff's Department charged Rodriguez with eight counts of possession with intent to sell and deliver cocaine and with four counts each of trafficking in cocaine by possession, trafficking in cocaine by sale and trafficking in cocaine by transporting.

HIGH-LEVEL WILSON DRUG TRAFFICKERS SENTENCED

<http://www.justice.gov/usao/nce/press/2011/2011-dec-09.html>

RALEIGH - United States Attorney Thomas G. Walker announced that in federal court yesterday Hilaria Rodriguez was sentenced for her participation in an illegal drug distribution conspiracy located in Wilson, North Carolina. Senior United States District Judge W. Earl Britt sentenced RODRIGUEZ, 34, to 211 months' imprisonment.

A Federal Grand Jury returned a Superseding Criminal Indictment on May 24, 2011, charging RODRIGUEZ with conspiring to distribute five kilograms or more of cocaine, 280 grams or more of crack cocaine, and a quantity of marijuana, distribution of cocaine, and possession of a firearm in furtherance of a drug trafficking crime. On May 31, 2011, RODRIGUEZ pled guilty to the conspiracy and distribution charges and not guilty to possession of a firearm in furtherance of a drug trafficking crime. On June 2, 2011, following a three-day trial, a jury convicted RODRIGUEZ of count three of the Indictment which charged possession of a firearm in furtherance of a drug trafficking crime.

According to the investigation, RODRIGUEZ was involved in a conspiracy that was importing large quantities of cocaine from outside of the Eastern District of North Carolina and distributing them throughout Wilson, Nash and Edgecombe counties. The investigation also revealed that members of the conspiracy were using firearms and threats of violence to assist in their operations.

The case is part of an Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) investigation being conducted by the Drug Enforcement Administration, the Rocky Mount Police Department, the Wilson Police Department, and the Wilson County Sheriff's Office. Special Assistant United States Attorney Nathan Huff represented the United States in the case. Mr. Huff is an assistant district attorney in the Seventh Prosecutorial District, comprised of Nash, Wilson, and Edgecombe Counties. District Attorney Robert A. Evans has assigned him to the United States Attorney's Office to prosecute federal drug and organized crime cases. This has been made possible by a grant funded by the Governor's Crime Commission.

Mount Pleasant man charged with trafficking cigarettes

<http://www.postandcourier.com/news/2012/jan/22/mt-p-man-charged-with-trafficking-smokes/>

A Mount Pleasant man fronted cash in a multimillion-dollar cigarette trafficking and money laundering scheme that crossed state borders and hid cash within South Carolina businesses, according to federal court documents unsealed last week.

Nasser Alquza, 56, was president of the Central Mosque of Charleston until after his arrest Nov. 30.

Investigators nabbed Alquza and 10 other men in a 26-count indictment filed in North Carolina, accusing them of crimes ranging from conspiracy to receiving stolen property.

Court records say the men bought nearly 7,000 cases of "stolen" cigarettes, each containing 60 cartons, from undercover officers in exchange for about $7.5 million.

Federal agents searched Alquza's home, a three-story yellow house on Oakhurst Drive in the upscale Rivertowne community in Mount Pleasant, shortly after 7 a.m. on Nov. 30. They left with computers, cameras, money, check books, receipts, business records, passports and identification documents.

Officials asked a judge to seal the court records as the investigation continued, but the documents became public last week.

Alquza declined to speak about the case without his lawyer's approval. His Columbia-based attorney, Jack Swerling, said his client would plead not guilty, but declined to comment further.

Imad Musallam, a council member and head of security at the Central Mosque of Charleston, on King Street, said Alquza resigned his position as president.

"That's his personal problem," Musallam said. "We cannot judge someone, and we cannot say anything until he's found guilty."

Musallam said Alquza resigned for personal reasons in December, not because of the investigation.

Tax exempt

Criminal organizations profit off cigarettes by buying them in bulk from states with a low tax, then shipping them to states with a higher tax.

South Carolina charges $5.70 per carton in state tax, for example, while New York City charges $5.75 per pack -- not carton -- in state and city taxes.

Only the Carolinas and North Dakota do not require that wholesalers stamp their cigarettes to indicate that they paid taxes. Criminal rings often buy cigarettes without stamps from wholesalers, then deliver them to states with higher tax rates.

Retailers there slap on counterfeit stamps and sell the cigarettes at a discount. Authorities estimate that state and federal governments lose $5 billion annually to cigarette trafficking.

This is how the federal agents' investigation unfolded, according to unsealed documents:

A Charlotte-Mecklenburg police officer first connected with a man named Khaled Fadel Ibrahim in September 2009 and told Ibrahim he stole cigarettes from trucks in Virginia.

The officer introduced Ibrahim to another undercover officer working for the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, and the two officers later met Kamal Z. Qazah, Alquza's nephew.

The agents told Qazah that they stole cigarettes from Virginia, and Qazah said he could turn a profit of $300 to $600 per case, according to court filings. After developing a relationship with Qazah, the agents asked him about money laundering, court records show.

In April Qazah introduced the officers to his uncle, Alquza, who could launder $100,000 every few months, court records say. Alquza agreed to write the officers checks in exchange for cash, giving himself a 6 percent cut, according to court records.

In the year that followed, Qazah and Alquza laundered $275,000 in money given to them by the undercover officers, and Qazah paid more than $1 million for 810 cases of Marlboros that his uncle helped unload, according to court records.

Alquza wrote checks from a Mount Pleasant Subway store, court records say, and Qazah wrote checks from his 7 Stars Auto Sales in Lugoff. The undercover officers met with the men several times at Alquza's pizza parlor, Milanos, in Columbia.

Investigators wrote in court papers that they believe the two men have spent the past decade involved in illegal activity, including money laundering, interstate transportation of stolen property, marriage fraud, alien smuggling, bank fraud, Social Security fraud, identity theft and operating an unlicensed money service business.

In court filings, authorities described their network as family members helping one another further advance their illegal activity.

Business ties

The indictment against all 11 men recounts alleged illegal cigarette sales at a cell phone store, a storage facility and a convenience store in North Carolina and South Carolina.

Court papers describe a lucrative black market that required special care to ward off any suspicions about the volume of cash.

Over time, the uncle and nephew laid out for undercover officers how they hid money, according to court filings. Here's what those records say:

Alquza and the officers discussed how he previously laundered money from stolen baby formula in Kentucky. He told the officers that he kept overseas accounts in London, Paris and Jordan to handle cash amounts that exceeded $100,000.

Alquza told them that he wired cash back to the U.S., labeling it as revenue from property sales, and only laundered for two or three years so as not to draw attention.

He instructed undercover officers to open a limited liability corporation using just a first name so that he could write a contract between them.

He also told them that he maintains so many businesses so that he doesn't deposit all the cash in one day but instead deposits $5,000 or $6,000 daily.

Qazah offered to launder money for undercover officers through his car lot and two gas stations. He told the officers that he bought cars, returned them within a day and deposited the money into his bank account.

Court records describe months of cash-for-check transactions between the officers and the uncle and nephew, including one occasion in which the officers delivered $125,000 in a toolbox to Alquza's pizza parlor in Columbia.

Authorities wrote in their filings that "Alquza made the statement to the undercover agent that he had been doing this for a while, that he had built 30 businesses, and this is how he covered things up."

Charlotte-Mecklenburg jail records show Alquza listed as an inmate from the day agents searched his home on Nov. 30 through Dec. 5.

The case against all 11 men remains open in federal court in North Carolina.

Company with Winston-Salem, state contracts fined $400,000 by federal immigration officials

<http://www2.journalnow.com/news/2012/jan/25/company-with-winston-salem-state-contracts-fined-4-ar-1855742/>

A company with a troubled past and millions of dollars in Triad-area construction contracts was fined more than $400,000 by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement last year.

Burlington-based Triangle Grading & Paving has racked up the largest ICE fine total in North Carolina going back to at least 2009, according to information ICE provided through a Freedom of Information Act request.

Winston Salem and DOT officials said they didn't know about the company's immigration-related fine until contacted by the Winston-Salem Journal, despite having numerous contracts with the company and the well-publicized deaths last year of two Latino men who worked for Triangle Grading & Paving in Durham.

The N.C. Labor Department fined Triangle $16,000 after that incident, in which Luis Castaneda Gomez of Durham and Jesus Martinez Benitez of Clayton went inside an 11-foot-deep manhole, lost consciousness because of a lack of oxygen and suffocated.

Triangle is fighting this fine. But the Labor Department's citations said Triangle didn't perform tests to make sure the men could enter the manhole safely, didn't have a supervisor on hand and didn't provide appropriate respiratory protection or rescue equipment.

ICE would not explain the reasons for its fines, citing an ongoing criminal investigation. But spokesman Vincent Picard said ICE fines could be for hiring illegal immigrants or helping illegal immigrants falsify documentation, as well as several other immigration-related violations.

Triangle Grading & Paving also would not speak about the fines. "The case has been answered, and negotiations for settlement are in progress," Executive Vice President Jack Bailey wrote in an email answering a request for comment.

Triangle has a long record of public construction projects in North Carolina, at least partly because it's frequently a low bidder, government documents show. State law requires agencies to accept the lowest qualified bidder, and the same rules apply to cities.

Wooten Gough, founder of the Triad-based immigrant advocacy group El Cambio, said having undocumented workers who are paid less would enable the company to submit low bids.

Triangle Grading & Paving has won 18 contracts from the state's Department of Transportation office since 2000. And it will stay on DOT's list of qualified contractors despite the ICE fines, DOT spokesman Steve Abbott said.

The DOT reviews its list of contractors each year, and "although safety records will be considered at that time, immigration fines would not be a factor," Abbott said.

The ICE fines may affect Triangle Grading & Paving's relationship with Winston Salem, which has hired the company seven times since 2006, including for the ongoing construction of the Brushy Fork Greenway.

"Our attorneys are researching the ICE fine to determine if the violation that led up to it would warrant any action to remove them from the city bid list," said Winston-Salem Assistant City Manager Greg Turner. Triangle will continue working on the greenway, Turner said.

State Rep. Dale Folwell, R-Forsyth, called Triangle Grading & Paving's ICE fine "very disturbing news."

"Unfortunately as other states tighten their illegal immigration laws, more of these stories will appear. We hear about them weekly from law-abiding businesses across North Carolina who are trying to compete fairly," Folwell said.

Gough, the immigrant advocate, said, "We rely even more so than we realize on the labor of immigrants, even more so undocumented immigrants."

Man charged in Parkwood slaying surrenders to police

<http://your.heraldsun.com/bookmark/17292861>

DURHAM – Police said a 20-year-old man charged in Monday's fatal shooting in a Parkwood home surrendered to them Wednesday.

The man, Christopher Herrera Posada, was arrested at his home on Sedwick Road in the southern Durham subdivision without incident, police spokeswoman Kammie Michael said.

Posada is slated for an initial hearing on the murder charge today in Durham County District Court. A jail spokesman said he was booked Wednesday and in the Durham County Jail without bond.

He is charged in the death of Jose Fernando Garcia of 1444 Sedwick Road. Police said Posada is the son of Garcia's girlfriend.

Posada's sister, Luisana Herrera, said in an interview Tuesday that her brother is mentally ill.

And in an interview Wednesday, Durham Police Chief Jose Lopez said he understood from family members that mental health issues may have figured in the slaying.

Police were called to the home shortly after 7 p.m. Monday and found Garcia lying inside the house. He had been shot and was pronounced dead at the scene.

Herrera, who said the victim was her stepfather, said no argument led to the shooting.

Two Men Arrested In Raleigh After 22 Pounds Of Cocaine Found In Car

<http://raleightelegram.com/20120125635>

RALEIGH – According to the Wake County Sheriff's Office, two men are in jail after a Wake County Sheriff's Deputy allegedly found 22 pounds of cocaine in their car.

Phyllis Stevens of the Wake County Sheriff's Office said that Elder Camacho and Angel Peralta were arrested on Friday in Raleigh. Both men are from Dalton, Georgia. The pair were each charged with felony drug possession although Camacho was additionally charged with maintaining a dwelling or vehicle for the storage of a controlled substance, also a felony.

Stevens said that the men were initially pulled over due to a simple traffic violation and that the deputy found the drugs in Camacho's 2004 BMW 545i.

"It was a regular traffic stop," Stevens told The Raleigh Telegram in a phone interview.

According to Stevens, the traffic stop took place near the intersection of Rock Quarry Road and Sanderford Road just outside of Raleigh.

Stevens said that a drug seizure of that size is not unusual. However, such busts are usually made when larger vehicles such as trucks or buses are used.

According to Stevens, as of first appearances on Monday at 2pm, the men were still in the Wake County Jail on $1 million bond.

FBI along with the ICE are investigating prostitution

<http://lavozindependiente.com/el-fbi-junto-con-el-ice-estan-investigando-prostitucion/>

HENDERSONVILLE- Just days that federal agents and an alleged immigration brothel closed in Asheville, Hendersonville other was closed and an expert on the subject says it is a possible case of human trafficking.

According to locals, federal agents arrived at a house at 3501 Howard Gap Road last December and arrested two Hispanic seemed to have more than 30 years of age.

Contrary to what happened at the alleged brothel in Asheville, there are no federal or state courts indications of prostitution arrests in this case.

Jerry Rice, Henderson sheriff's spokesman, did not immediately return a call from The Independent Voice. Andrea Firpo, an FBI agent in Asheville, who works with victims of sexual crimes, did not respond to interview requests for this newspaper.

However, residents of an adjacent house, which also are Hispanic, said in interviews with The Independent Voice agents from Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) and the State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) entered his home on 21 December.

The Independent Voice visited the area after receiving a call from a Hispanic mother who said her husband admitted that he recently was a client of the brothel.

However, this method is not identifying these residents for their undocumented immigration status because they are witnesses of an alleged crime.

They arrested these residents temporarily living room while their other officers, with the help of sheriff's deputies in Henderson, searched the house which was the site of the unlawful activity.

Neighbors said that for more than two years suspected that the neighboring house was a brothel, because the alleged customers mistook the place and played constantly at their doors.

"They came looking for 'the woman', remarked a young mother from the house, who was recovering from dental surgery the morning of the arrival of federal agents to your home.

The mother said that residents of the brothel then placed a plastic bag in the alley entrance of the site to mark the way. The bag is still there and tied to a bush.

His brother pointed out that the brothel was busiest during the weekends, when up to 20 Hispanic men came up at all hours.

His sister said that although customers were upset that they had sometimes mistakenly touched the door, never called authorities because she was not a "business."

The house in question was empty the day I visited La Voz Independiente. All windows except the front door were covered with sheets, towels, or black plastic bags.

Karen Arias, who works to prevent domestic violence and abuse of women for the judicial district that includes Haywood County, said the activities that residents described seems to be an example of human trafficking activities.

Arias urged that the Hispanic community when he observes how are you warn activity to authorities.

"I know it's our culture does not meddle in the affairs of other people," said Arias, of Nicaraguan descent. "But often, the women involved are victims and are not there by their own will."

Alleged cigarette smugglers indicted in Charlotte

<http://www.charlotteobserver.com/2012/01/28/2967789/alleged-cigarette-smugglers-indicted.html>

Eleven men have been indicted in Charlotte and accused of conspiring to pay more than $7.5 million in cash for over 400,000 cartons of cigarettes they believed had been stolen.

Some of the suspects also are accused of laundering money through legitimate businesses they owned or controlled.

The men are charged with conspiring to receive and transport across North Carolina and South Carolina Marlboro cigarettes they thought had been stolen in Virginia and Tennessee.

But unknown to the defendants, they were dealing with undercover law enforcement agents and officers.

The cigarettes purchased during the sting had a wholesale value of more than $15 million.

Federal prosecutors in 2000 dismantled a cigarette smuggling operation that eventually uncovered a Hezbollah cell in Charlotte. The cell was accused of smuggling millions of dollars worth of cigarettes from North Carolina to Michigan and sending some of the illegal proceeds from the cigarette sales to Lebanon to help finance Hezbollah's military operations.

The cell's suspected leader, Mohamad Hammoud, was convicted in 2002 of conspiring to provide material support to a terrorist organization and was sentenced to 155 years in prison. Hammoud's sentence was slashed in January 2011 to 30 years' imprisonment.

The undercover sting investigation that led to the indictment of the 11 men now being prosecuted in Charlotte began after authorities learned in August 2009 that one of the suspects was interested in purchasing cigarettes at prices far below market wholesale value for resale in local stores in the Carolinas.

The indicted defendants: Ahmed Samy Hosny Kareem, also known as "Sammy," Kamal Zaki Qazah, also known as "Keemo," Tha'er Ismail Ayyad, also known as "Old Man" and "Wild Man," Wael Mahmoud Salem, also known as "Tony," Zafer Ramadan Kafozi, also known as "Uncle Jack," Ziad Hashem Najjar, also known as "Z," Murad Ayyad, also known as "Mike," Nasser Kamal Alquza, Khaled Fadel Ibrahim, Jose Calderon-Silver and Hesham Rahman.

Four of the men live in Charlotte. The others live in Matthews, Monroe, Greensboro, Kernersville, Columbia, Mount Pleasant, S.C., and South Ozone Park, N.Y. Their ages range from 31 to 56.

All 11 are charged with conspiring to receive stolen property and transport stolen goods across state lines. Some also face money laundering and receiving stolen property charges.

The money laundering charges are punishable by a maximum of 20 years in prison. Receiving stolen property carries a maximum punishment of 10 years in prison. The conspiracy charge is punishable by up to 10 years in prison.

The defendants have all pleaded not guilty.

Man charged 17 years after fatal Asheboro shooting

<http://www.courier-tribune.com/sections/news/local/man-charged-17-years-after-fatal-asheboro-shooting.html>

ASHEBORO — A man has been charged with murder 17 years after a shooting occurred in the Lakeside Road area in Asheboro, according to Asheboro Police.

On July 24, 1994, Asheboro Police officers responded to 1954 Lakeview Road where they found Jacinto L. Zarate had been shot and killed at the scene with an AK-47 rifle. Carlos Tapiamontes was also shot, but was released from the hospital a few days later.

Detectives said the shooting stemmed from an earlier altercation.

Witnesses said the suspects, who fled the scene at the time, were three Latino men, Sergio Pelayo Rios, Felipe Rios and Floreno Rios.

On Thursday, Asheboro detectives received information that Sergio Pelayo Rios, 38, also known as Pelayo Rios, was living at 2858 Anson Road, Cerro Gordo, a small North Carolina town in Columbus County. He was on probation for a DWI charge when his probation officer noted similarities between his name and the name of the man wanted in the 1994 warrant.

After some investigation by Asheboro Police detectives, Rios was detained at the Columbus County Jail until he could be transported to the Randolph county Jail and served with a warrant for arrest for the 1994 murder of Zarate.

On Friday, Asheboro Lt. Richard Thompson, said it made it difficult for detectives to find him over the last 17 years because Rios was using a different birth date than the one authorities had for the man charged in the 1994 warrant and he was going by his middle name. Thompson added that a picture on an old ID of Rios' found at the scene years ago by Detective L. McIver helped the case tremendously.

“We didn’t give up though,” Thompson said. “Fortunately, we don’t see many homicides in Asheboro — so the ones we do have, we take them very seriously and take another look at them from time to time.”

Rios is being held in the Randolph County Jail under no bond.

Thompson said Felipe Rios and Floreno Rios were apprehended and charged a few days after the incident but that he did not immediately know the outcome of their cases.

Illegal immigration is still a problem in Lincoln County and will be even bigger when economy rebounds

<http://www.denverncnews.com/?p=4335>

One of our readers dropped by the office Monday afternoon and he was hopping mad about an issue that has been on the back burner around here for a couple of years.

Back before the bubble of the boom burst and Denver's economy was still sizzling hot, there was a lot of buzz around here about illegal immigration.

Home-building and commercial construction attracted hundreds – if not thousands – of laborers into the community every day, and many of them decided to make their homes in Lincoln County.

Of course, not all of them were illegal. In fact, most probably were not, but many had crossed into our nation illegally, and all across North Carolina citizens started raising the devil and demanding that something – anything – be done to stem the tide.

And who could blame them? Illegal immigration costs state and local governments in North Carolina anywhere from $1.2 to $2 billion annually. That money comes out of your pockets.

Reacting to the citizen outrage, Lincoln County commissioners passed an ordinance that prohibited any county department from providing services to illegal immigrants, and after they patted themselves on the back, the issue faded away.

So far as I know no one ever checked to see whether it was being enforced. Out of sight. Out of mind.

But it's still a problem, and our reader pointed out that illegal immigrants are still working in Denver, primarily in the lawn care and construction business according to him.

They are paid substantially less than U.S. citizens, and gladly take the lower wage. That is great news for the employers who pay no unemployment insurance or matching Social Security, and therefore make even more money.

But it's bad news for taxpayers and honest people looking for work.

The Pew Hispanic Center claims that North Carolina ranks ninth in population among the states with 325,000 "unauthorized immigrants," and that number is low according to other groups.

Whether its 3,250 or 325,000, it's too many.

I've said this before and I'll say it again. Not everyone you might think is illegal actually is, and it's wrong to discriminate against anyone just because they don't look or act like you.

But people who cross into our country illegally are lawbreakers and should be treated as such. No benefits. No "rights." Nothing.

They should be rounded up and promptly shipped back across the border. Period. (They should never get into the country in the first place, but that's another issue).

Most illegal immigrants come into the United States to work, and most of them are very hard-working people. But they are illegal and there should be no room for discussion about such nonsense as amnesty. What if we weren't talking about Latinos here? What if our borders were being overrun with people from Iran or Afghanistan or Somalia? Do you think that for a single minute that we would put up with that?

Of course not.

Our economy will rebound one of these days, and when it does we will see growth like never before. New houses will go up. New office and retail buildings will be constructed, and we'll see a slew of illegal immigrants back on our streets and their kids in our schools.

While we are still in a lull, let's hope that the federal government gets its act together and gets serious about closing our borders and enforcing our immigration laws.
