Marquez has been held in the Durham County Jail since Friday in lieu of $5 million bond, $3 million on charges related directly to the armed home invasions and second-degree kidnapping charges and $2 million on the first-degree kidnapping charge.

Marquez was arrested after Durham Police Sgt. Michael Berendsen stopped a blue Chevrolet Malibu on Guess Road near Fawn Avenue around 9:45 a.m. Friday. The suspect had fled in a blue Malibu in at least one of the robberies. Officers found two guns and several other items in the car.

Tellez was being held last night in the Forsyth County Jail. His bond is set at $500,000.

He is scheduled to appear in court July 24.

Father and son arrested on cocaine charges

<http://www.starnewsonline.com/article/>

A father and son duo from Brunswick County were arrested Thursday by vice detectives with the New Hanover County Sheriff's Office and charged with cocaine trafficking.

The arrests are the first of a weeks-long drug sting that, so far, has netted $246,000 worth of cocaine and $40,000 in cash.

Luis Hernandez, 38, and Oscar Hernandez, 19, both of Leland, were arrested in a parking lot near the 300 block of South College Road on Thursday and charged with cocaine trafficking and other charges, according to a news release from the New Hanover County Sheriff's Office. Both are being held in the New Hanover County jail. Luis Hernandez had a bond set at $1.5 million, while Oscar Hernandez is in on a $100,000 bond.

The two were charged with eight offenses each, including four counts of trafficking cocaine, conspiring to traffic in cocaine, possession with intent to sell and deliver cocaine, maintaining a dwelling/vehicle for drugs and possession of drug paraphernalia.

The arrests are a result of an undercover operation that began several weeks ago with the assistance of the sheriff's offices in Brunswick and Duplin counties, said Capt. David Ciamillo of the vice and narcotics unit.

The investigation is continuing, said Deputy Charles Smith, a sheriff's office spokesman. "We feel pretty certain there will be additional arrests," he said.

Scotland Neck man kills wife, self

<http://www.rockymounttelegram.com/news/scotland-neck-man-kills-wife-self-702879.html>

A Scotland Neck man, in what authorities on Monday declared a murder-suicide, shot and killed his 34-year-old wife Saturday before turning the gun on himself.

Halifax County deputies found Jesus Flores, 41, and his wife Catherine Flores lifeless Saturday morning at their home off N.C. 125, dead from gunshot wounds to the head, Maj. Bruce Temple said.

An investigation determined Jesus Flores killed his wife and then himself.

Deputies confirmed Monday the couple had a history of domestic violence.

Autopsies were scheduled for early this week, Temple said.

Man sentenced in crash that killed four people

<http://www2.journalnow.com/content/2009/jul/09/man-sentenced-crash-killed-four-people/news-local/>

A Winston-Salem man was sentenced to less than four years in prison after pleading guilty to crashing a car that killed four of his friends last year.

Gerardo Cruz Garcia, 19, pleaded guilty to four counts of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the crash on Yadkinville Road Sept. 2. The crash killed Noe Marroquin, 15, his brother, Sergio, 17, and cousins Ivan Andres Jr., 18, and David Rojo Martinez, 24. Judge Henry E. Frye Jr. sentenced Garcia to a minimum of 33 months and a maximum of 42 months in prison.

There were six people in the car at the time of the crash. Prosecutor Matt Breeding said Garcia went off the right side of the road, overcorrected, and went off the right side, slamming into a stone wall at Forsyth Memorial Park, a cemetery. Investigators found the speedometer of the car stuck at 85 m.p.h.

The four killed died at the scene, and another passenger was seriously injured but survived, Breeding said.

A resident from a nearby home noticed that Garcia was bleeding from the ears and tried to help him, but Garcia walked away from the crash scene. He was not found until the next day. There was a strong smell of alcohol at the scene and beer cans throughout the car, Breeding said. But given how much time passed between the time of the accident and when Garcia was apprehended, it would have been difficult to prove he was impaired at the time of the crash. Otherwise, Breeding said, prosecutors would likely have charged him with a more serious crime. Garcia's attorney, John Barrow, conceded that there were beer cans in the car, but said the group had purchased the beer shortly before the crash and that they were in the car unopened.

Garcia has been in the United States since he was three months old, Barrow said. Federal Immigrations and Customs Enforcement will detain Garcia after he is released from prison and he will be deported to Mexico, Barrow said.

Three arrested, $112,000 in cocaine seized

<http://www.newbernsj.com/news/cocaine-46386-investigators-possession.html>

Craven County Sheriff Jerry Monette is calling the arrest of three men allegedly involved in cocaine trafficking "large scale players."

Weapons, various drugs and a kilogram of cocaine were seized from the men. At 3 a.m. Wednesday the gig was up for three men in Vanceboro when Craven County Sheriff's narcotics officers, investigators and road deputies rounded up Edward Staton, 28, of 355 Rance Buck Road, and two other men, Gonzales Sanchez, 39, of Goldsboro and Israel Lopez Espenvodla, 20, of Washington, N.C.

Monette said the office's narcotics unit has been investigation the sale and distribution of cocaine and marijuana for the past week. "We think the cocaine was coming from south of the United States border," Monette said.

During the investigation, Monette said investigators learned that Staton was receiving large quantities of cocaine from two Mexican men. After surveillance Wednesday morning, investigators stopped a white Ford Explorer on Kite Town Road. Sanchez and Espenvodla were inside the car. Investigators searched the car and found 4 ounces of cocaine with a $12,000 street value. The two were taken into custody and charged with two counts of trafficking cocaine and felony maintaining a vehicle to transport cocaine. They were put in jail with their bail set at $1 million each. Capt. Joe Heckman said the two men spoke little English.

Meanwhile, Staten was stopped by deputies while driving a Honda Civic and deputies say he was in possession of marijuana, $3,000 in cash, and drug paraphernalia.

Investigators served a search warrant at Staten's house. When they got inside the house, they found a locked safe. After the New Bern Fire Department used equipment to open the safe, investigators found a kilogram of cocaine with a street value of $100,000. Investigators also found seven firearms including an SKS rifle, ecstasy pills, prescription pain medicine and marijuana.

Staten was arrested and charged with two counts of trafficking cocaine, possession with the intent to sell and deliver cocaine and marijuana, felony possession of a Schedule I controlled substance, felony possession of cocaine, felony possession of marijuana, and seven counts of possession of a firearm by a felon. Investigators say he faces more charges. He was put in jail with his bail set at $2 million.

"It happened fast and quick. This was a substantial amount of cocaine. We will probably take this case to federal authorities," Monette said.

Monette said he was going to contact federal immigration officials to find out the two men's legal status for being in the country

Hickory residents caught up in coke bust

<http://www2.hickoryrecord.com/content/2009/jul/17/hickory-residents-caught-coke-bust/news/>

HICKORY - Two Hickory men were arrested on cocaine charges, ending an investigation that spanned more than a month.

Jamie Garcia Martinez and Roberto Martinez Delpilar of Old Farm Drive, Hickory, were charged with trafficking cocaine, Iredell County Sheriff Phil Redmond said.

Delpilar was charged with three counts of trafficking and Martinez was charged with four counts of trafficking.

Redmond said the Iredell County Sheriff's Office's Narcotics Division has been conducting an undercover operation that culminated Wednesday evening with the arrests of Martinez and Delpilar.

Redmond said detectives were meeting with the suspects and purchasing cocaine destined for the streets of Iredell County. The suspects were arrested at the B&B Quick Stop on Old Mountain Road in Statesville, Redmond said.

Approximately 12 ounces of cocaine, hidden in a large Subway drink cup, were seized along with $10,000 in cash, he said. The cocaine has a street value of $85,000.

Redmond said it is believed the suspects are here illegally and authorities are working with Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) to determine their status.

Neither suspect had valid identification.

Martinez is being held in the Iredell County in lieu of a $400,000 bond while Delpilar's bond is set at $300,000.

Drunken Driver Hits Cruiser After Truck OvertURNS

<http://www.wsocv.com/news/20084768/detail.html>

CORNELIUS, N.C. -- Traffic was backed up for more than five miles early Friday after a grocery truck turned over on Interstate 77 northbound near Cornelius. That incident led to another crash and an arrest shortly after 5 a.m.

The grocery truck, which had thousands of pounds of food on-board, skidded about 200 feet on its side after overturning at about 4:30 a.m. near exit 28. While investigators were working to flip it over, a red Ford pickup truck sped through the closed-off crash scene, slammed into one of the police cruisers and kept going.

Trooper Clay Amaral said he saw the pickup coming before it smashed into an empty Cornelius police cruiser. He said officers had to run to get out the way.

"They had to run out of the way, and then when I saw him coming straight toward the rear of my vehicle, I stepped off into the median myself," Amaral said.

Troopers chased the driver of that pickup and arrested him a short distance from the scene. Amaral said the suspect, 22-year-old Francisco Ramirez, was charged with driving while impaired, hit and run and driving without a license.

Amaral said the Ramirez told officers he had five or six beers before getting into his car. No one was hurt in the series of events, but the crashes caused drivers a lot of frustration during their morning commute.

Ivol Marel Meza Colman, 24, of Seven Gables Trailer Park, Clinton, was arrested for second degree kidnapping and assault on a female and placed under a $100,000 bond.

According to reports, officers with the Clinton Police Department stopped a vehicle Saturday evening for speeding. Inside was a host of people, including Colman and his alleged girlfriend, Mylena Inestroza, 20.

As the vehicle came to a stop, reports show Inestroza leapt from the vehicle and ran to police for help. Through an interpreter, she explained the reason for her escape. She told police Colman has held her against her will for the previous 16-18 hours at a relative's home located on North Peavine Road.

She reportedly told police that, at one point, she attempted to leave the home, only to be assaulted by Colman.

Hours later, Inestroza, Colman and others got in the vehicle and headed to visit a friend in Clinton.

When police stopped the vehicle for speeding, Inestroza made her move and jumped out to police for help.

It is unclear if any of the other passengers in the vehicle were aware of Inestroza's predicament, according to officials at the Sampson County Sheriff's Department.
